At a Glance

The American Deal is the public campaign for the National Sovereignty and Resilience Act (NSRA) — a citizen-authored federal framework of 36 titles and 218 sections. It is designed to restore fiscal sovereignty and deliver material household benefits without adding to the deficit, funded by recapturing value that currently leaves the domestic economy rather than by new broad-based taxes. The agenda is finished, fully costed on published government baselines, and owned by no party — published in full and open to whoever runs on it first.

The formal legislative vehicle is the NSRA. “The American Deal” is the public movement and governing promise. The project is a program of TheAmericanDeal, Inc., a Wyoming 501(c)(4) civic-education and advocacy organization.

Key Figures — With Sourcing

Claim	Figure	Basis
Year 1 annual revenue	$749B	NSRA model on CBO/JCT/OMB/Treasury baselines
Annual deficit reduction	$554B	NSRA model; internally sensitivity-tested
Balanced budget (central est.)	Year 4	NSRA model; low/base/high scenarios
Americans in Year-1 direct relief	79M+	28M uninsured · 42M SNAP · 9M veterans
Federal drug-pricing savings	~$55B/yr	PNAS 2024 G7 price-differential analysis
Insulin price cap	$35/month	Statutory text (pharmaceutical parity title)
Corporate single-family housing cap	50 units / metro	Statutory text (Title XIV)
Small-business exemption	< $10M revenue	Statutory text (Covered Entity definition)

Fiscal figures are NSRA model estimates built on published government baselines — internally modeled and sensitivity-tested, not yet officially scored. Independent and congressional scoring are pending. Full assumptions and citations appear in Schedule G at TheAmericanDeal.org.

Founder Background

Santonio Sanders is the principal architect of the National Sovereignty and Resilience Act. His background is operational rather than political:

- Ten years in the U.S. Navy submarine service.
- Federal contracting experience in national-security and diplomatic environments, embedded across multiple federal agencies.
- Former VA ambulatory-care director, having led the veteran-care referral continuum at a major federal VA medical facility.
- Author of the NSRA, written outside the political and lobbying system.

The project's framing — “written outside the system” — reflects that the framework was developed independently, from publicly available federal data, rather than through a party, PAC, or think tank.

The Six Promises

The NSRA's 36 titles are organized around six promises that give the agenda a plain-language structure:

Anti-Extraction (anti-monopoly, PE limits, sovereign wealth fund); Anti-Corruption (congressional stock ban, emoluments enforcement, press freedom); Pro-Worker & Pro-Farmer (organizing rights, pension protection, food sovereignty); Clean Water & Clean Energy (lead-pipe & PFAS cleanup, grid modernization, advanced fission); Future-Building (Child Prosperity Trust, student-debt relief, semiconductors); and American Sovereignty (reserve-currency defense, reshoring, veterans first).

Core Messages

- Deliverability, not ideology. The claim is a promise the country can actually keep — real benefits in Year 1, the dividend only when earned.
- Genuine revenue, not borrowing. The bill funds itself by recapturing value leaving the domestic economy, not by new broad-based taxes.
- The integration is the mechanism. The 36-title breadth is load-bearing: revenue funds benefits, safeguards protect the revenue, fiscal controls prevent new deficits.
- Visible evidence standard. Every major claim is classified by source and review status; official scoring is stated as pending rather than implied.
